

Remarks

The amendments made to the specification at pages 4, 8 and 11 are to correct typographical errors. It is requested that these amendments be entered.

Claims 1, 9, 19, 20 and 28 were amended according to the Examiner's Amendment which was authorized in a telephone interview with the undersigned on January 17, 2008, as set forth in the Notice of Allowability issued on January 22, 2008. Subsequently, Applicants found some of the amendments unacceptable and requested that the present amendments be made.

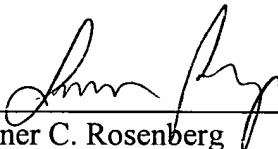

In order to avoid confusion, the present amendment includes both the changes from the Examiner's Amendment and the additional changes requested herein. The new amendments requested herein are found at: Claim 1, lines 2-3; Claim 19, lines 2-3; Claim 20, lines 2-3; and Claim 28, line 2.

The reason for the requested amendments is that the Examiner's Amendment failed to understand that one of the features of the invention is that the alternating current circuit has an alternating current flowing through it before the alternator is connected thereto. Applicants submit that the claims as amended remain allowable because, if anything, the amendments narrow the scope of the claims. Therefore, no additional search or examination is required.
